Weight: 62kg Hair: Black and Red
Eyes: Brown Gender: Female
Metatype: Human Awakened: Yes

Primary Role: Magical Support

Secondary Role: Fire Support

Physical Description:

Susie is an attractive human woman of average height with an affinity for tattoos and body piercings. She usually dresses in clothing of black and red and leather with a myriad of buckles, chains and spikes.

Word on the Street:

>> Wow... Shitstorm? How the hell did she get saddled with that name?

>> A.J.

>> Sue is a straight up nutcase. I've seen her drop offensive spells on teammates, spray autofire wildly without care for bystanders... shit, I saw a vid of her miss a counterspelling opportunity because she was mooning a cop!

>> Warcrow

>> Susie does bring a bit to the table, as far as combat ability goes, both offensively and defensively. She's also a seasoned combat veteran... she ran with the Blades (one of the craziest gangs in the Puyallup) for years.

>> H.K.

>> I've treated Sue's injuries several times over the past few years... she's not as bulletproof as she claims. It's fairly obvious to me that she's severely bi-polar. Sometimes it's like I'm treating a vicious killer, and sometimes a scared little girl.

>> Doc Hollis

Personal Commentary:

Forget the rules the rest of civilized society lives by. Live in the moment. Wreck every obstacle in your path, and crow about it to the heavens. You don't want to make life easy for the rest of the world, do you?

Roleplaying Notes:

Susie is a somewhat self-destructive thrill seeker with little regard for morality or 'doing what's right'. While she might lead some to believe that she got into running to work against 'The Man', in reality she may just be a hoodlum with a lust for vandalism. Despite Susie's skills and professionalism, when she wants to be professional, she does tend to play things too fast and too loose. One of these days, her overconfidence may just be the end of her.
