Physical Description:

Nosebleed is about average height for an orc, broad shouldered, and muscularly built. She prefers to wear military surplus fatigues and such. She also has the squinty eyes, pronounced canines and coarse hair of an orc, but otherwise she is not as 'offensive looking' as others of his kind.

Personal Commentary:

You know I heard that it only takes like 9lbs of pressure per square inch to break a nat bone. I can do that with my pinky... granted, that don't mean much seeing as I just kicked you in the nuts, but it's nice to learn something' new, right?

Word on the Street:

>>I know Nosey from way back. She was recon and infantry in Salish Shidhe, and been working the Shadows in Seattle for almost a year now.

>> Angry Alex

>> And Nosebleed is her given middle name. Born and raised in the orc underground, where stuff like that is common. She's cute, too.

>> Big Mac

>> Don't let her hear you say that.

>> Angry Alex

Roleplaying Notes:

"Nosebleed earned her name due to the numerous fights she picked as a child, and the numerous wounds she took and dealt out. She still does have quite a short fuse. Since she all but skipped his teenage years (like many Orcs), Nosebleed is a bit immature. She is quick to take insult at the most minor of comments, quick to stand up for her friends, and quick to throw a punch. She is also fiercely loyal to those he considers his friends, but he often lapses into self doubt in herself, her abilities, and her place.
