

Vital Stats: "Kayto"

Age: Unknown

Weight: 74kg

Eyes: Green

Metatype: Elf

Height: 1.87m

Hair: Brown

Gender: Female

Awakened: Yes (Adept)

Primary Role: Close Quarters Combat

Secondary Role: Infiltration

Physical Description:

Slender but powerful, Kayto keeps her hair cut shoulder length and sports a diamond stud in her left nostril. Her muscles are solid, not ripped in the body-builder sense. She epitomizes lean and mean. She typically dresses to impress, in various shades of greys and blacks.

Word on the Street:

>> I heard she's from Tir Taingire, where she taught various martial arts styles. All appearances show her to simply be a gifted student of the eastern fighting styles. All appearances show her to be magically awakened.

>> K.H.

>> Martial Arts...check. Awakened...check. It doesn't take a moron to realize that she's an adept. Shit. "All Appearances", I like that. Military background?

>> Sureshot

>> All appearances point to no.... Asshole.

>> Kayto

Personal Commentary:

No. I wouldn't call it 'rushing in, guns blazing'. I simply don't hesitate when other less qualified operatives do. I've got one mantra: 'Failure is not an option.'

Roleplaying Notes:

Kayto feels that she provides a unique aspect to any team, and is in most ways integral to its proper performance. She feels she reaches correct decisions faster than the others, and will take action without consulting the others if she believes it's correct. Thus far her judgment hasn't been wrong often, and in the rare occurrence others have managed to pull her out when it was...after all, that's what they're there for.
